NEW

Rooftilefix

When all you have is a roof tile in your hand, and you need to know what fixing specification to write into a specification or quotation, The Tiled Roofing Consultancy can take that tile, and with site and building data supplied by you, undertake the BS 5534 calculations needed to produce a nail or clip fixing specification.

The calculation turn-around is relatively quick, as a new computer program is used, similar to those used by the major UK roof tile manufacturers, but with the added advantage of allowing new tile data to be added quickly.

This service is not intended for roof coverings where the manufacturer offers a free fixing specification service for their products. This is specifically for those roof coverings where the manufacturer does not have the facilities to provide a fixing specification service.
